STATIONS of the CROSS

Join Jesus on His journey to the Cross.
Fridays during Lent: 7pm-English;
7:30pm-Polish; 8pm-Spanish
Please try to make this beautiful devotion one of your Lenten practices.

Remember ...you are called to be holy, and holy you should be.

God proves his love for us in that while we still were sinners
Christ died for us.
ROMANS 5:8, NRSV

a time for us to...

Pray for the renewal of the Church
Fast from fear and anxiety Give alms as a way to thank God for all that He has given us.

Almost there. If we consider the season of Lent to be a journey, we can think of each of the forty days as one on which we progress toward a final destination, each as a day on which we take steps to move closer to a point we wish to reach. As runners might keep a daily log in which they enter the miles run or jogged, some Lenten pilgrims might start a Lenten journal in which to chart their daily spiritual course. Calendar keepers will note that there are more Lenten days behind us than in front of us.

Almost there. As a traveler on a long journey, there comes a time to stop and take inventory. Do you have enough money to get home? Do you have enough energy to see and do all that you planned? Has your trip been satisfying and enriching thus far? As a Lenten pilgrim, now is the time to stop and check your spiritual compass. Ask yourself, "Up to this point, have I been going in the right direction? Has my compass been pointed to the Cross of salvation? Have my steps taken me forward or backward in my faith? Have I prayed more, fasted regularly, given more?"

Yes, almost there...but not there yet. There is still time to fulfill the Lenten commitments that you made on Ash Wednesday. There is still time for prayers to be said, alms to be given, sacrifices to be made. Dear pilgrim, "Let not your heart be troubled." You may remember the lyrics of an old song that bid you to, "Pick yourself up, dust yourself off, and start all over again." Now is the time. True, for some the Lenten journey may be a shorter one, but it need not be less worthwhile. You may have more ground to cover, but it will be holy ground. Godspeed.

May our Merciful Lord grant them healing.

Scripture is full of examples of God's love for us. This week's reading provides a wonderful example of God's fierce love and extreme forgiveness. The prodigal son is in every one of us. When we turn to sin in order to do what we want to do, we insult God's amazing gift of free will; however, God does not 'hold a grudge' or 'dislike us.' Like the forgiving father in the story, God is waiting for us to return to Him. God is longing to greet each of us in Confession, to offer His embracing, forgiving love through the power of the sacrament of Penance.

We are grateful for all Christians who use the season of Lent as an opportunity for profound reconciliation with our Father in Heaven by going to Confession and inviting others to celebrate the sacrament of Penance with humility and courage.
